What to expect

A cycling journey from Ronda to Córdoba is an unforgettable exploration through the heart of Andalusia. You'll ride through a landscape full of contrasts: rugged mountains, quiet olive groves, charming white villages, and impressive historic cities. This trip is ideal for those who want to combine tranquility, culture, and nature, without rushing.

You cycle on quiet country roads with little traffic. The route is hilly, with a few challenging climbs and a flat stage on the last day, suitable for recreational cyclists on an E-bike with a good basic fitness level. (See E-bike difficulty level in BLOG) Along the way, mountain panoramas, olive fields, and authentic villages alternate.

Each evening you arrive at a carefully selected hotel, usually small-scale and peacefully located. Daily luggage transport included.

General daily schedule

- ♦ Breakfast at the hotel
- ♦ Average 40–80 km cycling per day (4–6 hours including breaks)
- ♦ Time for a terrace, lunch, photos, and sightseeing along the way
- ♦ Arrival in the afternoon, time to relax or explore the surroundings
- ♦ Finish your journey in the impressive city of Córdoba, with its famous Mezquita and atmospheric old town

Day 1

Welcome

Upon arrival in Málaga, our transfer will take us to our rural hotel in Ronda, located above a deep gorge that divides the city in two. The tour leader will organize an introductory meeting about the trip, followed by a safety briefing.

Free afternoon in Ronda

Start the day by exploring Ronda's famous sights, such as the iconic bridge or the Plaza de Toros, Spain's oldest bullring. Or take a trip to one of the many local vineyards, an excellent way to deepen your knowledge of local wines.

The tour leader will organize dinner to celebrate the first day of the journey.

Relaxation at the hotel

The hotel features a quietly located swimming pool

Day 2

Track 1 Sierra de las Nieves Mountain Range

Off we go to the breathtaking Gaitanes Gorge, one of the most spectacular landscapes in the Malaga mountains where we stay the second night of the trip.

We leave our hotel along meandering country roads, passing through the Ronda Mountain Range and the Sierra de las Nieves National Park, a 100% stunning landscape. After a picnic lunch at a panoramic viewpoint, we continue toward our hotel nestled in the heart of the Natural Park.

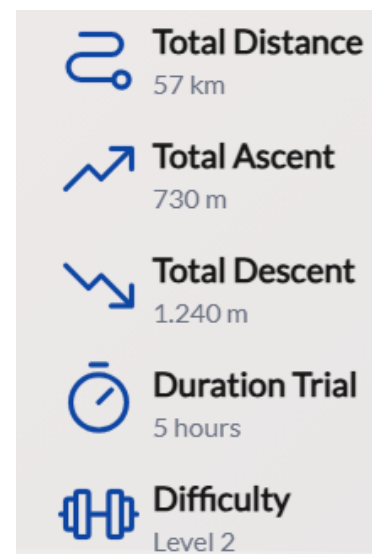

Free day Ronda

Swimming pool and breathtaking views

Optional walk 'Caminito del Rey'

Relaxation at the hotel

The hotel features a quietly located swimming pool

Day 3

Stage 2 Rural Andalusia

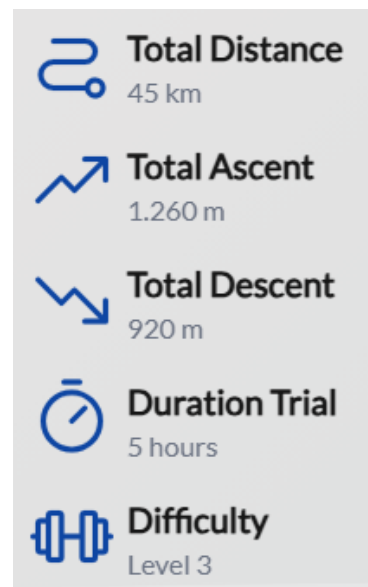

After breakfast, we drive the first kilometers with our support vehicle to skip the steep part and bring us higher where we start our second stage.

Today we cycle through rural Andalusia, a mountainous and colorful landscape where Mediterranean crops alternate with pastureland. After the picnic lunch, we continue to the village of Antequera with its rich historical center that claims to have the most churches per inhabitant in Spain. Monasteries, palaces, the Moorish fortress, and prehistoric dolmens are some of the many sights.

Free afternoon Antequera

Relaxation at the hotel

Hotel features a quietly located swimming pool

Day 4

Stage 3 Mountainous Olive Groves

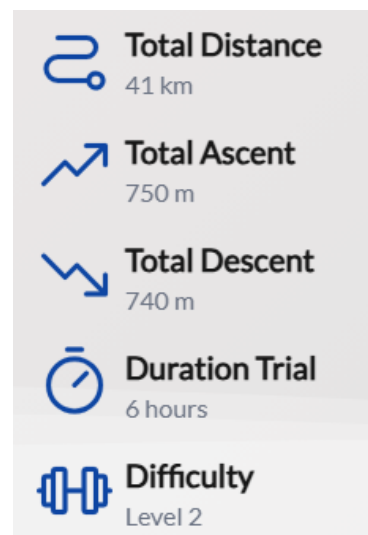

Today is the only time we drive to our new starting point, a village built on the ruins of an old Moorish castle that overlooks the beautiful valley and lake below.

The route takes us through the olive groves of Andalusia in the Sierras Subbéticas Natural Park and Geopark. Spain has olive groves spread throughout almost the entire country, but the largest concentration is in Andalusia, with locations where olive trees were already used when the region Hispania Baetica supplied olive oil to the Roman capital.

Our destination today is the village of Priego de Córdoba in the heart of the natural park. For dinner, we offer you the opportunity to learn how to taste and appreciate olive oil with all your senses through an olive oil master, discovering the smell, aroma, and taste of each olive oil.

Free afternoon

Discover the old part of the village

Day 5

Stage 4 The Route of the Old Olive Oil Train

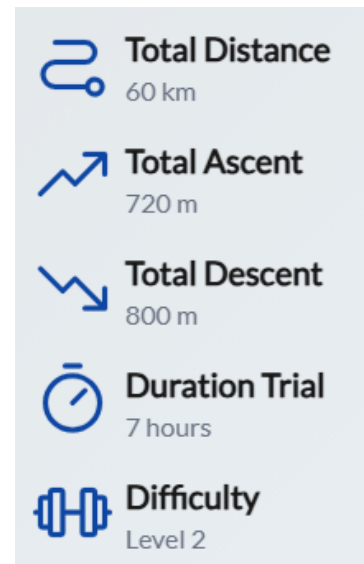

Today we continue cycling through the beautiful landscapes of the Sierras Subbéticas that take us to picturesque villages.

After another outdoor picnic, we follow the track of the old train route called “Vía Verde” that runs between olive trees and vineyards. These Greenways in Spain have been restored for cyclists and walkers.

The route of the old oil train brings us to our next accommodation, a traditional Andalusian farmhouse converted into a hotel.

Free afternoon

Swimming pool and breathtaking views

Day 6

Stage 5 The Caliphate and Mozarabic Route

On your last cycling day, we follow two historic routes that lead us to the city of Córdoba, our final destination. The Caliphate Route is the Andalusian heritage that connects Córdoba and Granada, the capitals of the Caliphate and Nasrid al-Andalus. It was one of the busiest paths of the Iberian Peninsula in the Middle Ages, used by merchants from all over the known world, who supplied and traded with these important population centers; it was also the route of knowledge, science, and art.

The other historic route is the Mozarabic Way to Santiago de Compostela. An ancient path that pays tribute to all Christians, the Mozarabs, who remained in the areas of Al-Andalus. A journey that reminds us of that time when these Christians, despite oppression, maintained their faith and devotion.

The last part of the longest cycling route reveals our travel destination with views of the city of Córdoba, located in the Guadalquivir depression formed by the Guadalquivir River.

Day 7

Free day Córdoba

Explore the city's history and culture known for its unique blend of Roman, Moorish, and Christian influences. The city was once a significant Roman settlement and later became the capital of the Islamic Emirate and then the Caliphate of Córdoba, under which it flourished as one of the largest and most advanced cities in the world during the Middle Ages.

In the morning there is an optional tour of the Mosque of Córdoba for those who have pre-reserved the activity.

The tour guide will organize a place to have dinner together to celebrate the last evening of the journey

Day 8

Goodbye

The journey ends after breakfast at our hotel. There will be a private airport transfer from the hotel to the airport in Málaga.

Recommendations

Start your tour 1 day earlier in Ronda to give yourself enough time to enjoy the charming town of Ronda and your selected accommodation. We can book you an extra night at our rural hotel. Be aware there are no transfers included for pre- and post-hotel extensions.

Bicycles

We provide high-quality electrical bicycles with pannier bags for carrying luggage, allowing the bike to take the weight rather than your shoulders. When booking, you indicate your height and weight to have the correct frame size of the bicycle at the start of your holiday.

The bicycles are marked with the client's name.

On the first day, you will be able to try out your bicycle and make minor adjustments to ensure comfort. Besides the pannier, a helmet, and water bottle will be given. Extra clothing provision which includes sweaters, jackets, gloves, etc. We facilitate fitting your pedals or saddle if you wish to bring them. We provide spare parts and take care of the day-to-day maintenance.

Check out our blog for more information about our bicycles!

Ride for everyone

Those who have a good level of physical condition can join the tour on a Road bike or Gravel bike at extra cost.

Check out our blog for more information about our cycle grades!

Any questions about the cycle grades do not hesitate to contact us.

Meals

Breakfast included.

We organize outdoor picnics with a great variety of local products.

Dinner is not included.

Group size

The group size ranges from 7 to 16 people.

Small group travel allows people to feel freedom, go at their own pace, get to know companies, and also benefit from a leader's knowledge.

Accommodations

The hotels have been carefully selected with great care for their location and their character to make your trip a single experience. The accommodations include breakfast and good service often with a restaurant, bar, garden, and swimming pool. The hotel room type is a standard double room assigned to two people with two individual beds or one double bed for couples with a private bathroom. Rooms are distributed, in consultation, according to the gender of the travelers. Private rooms can be booked at an additional cost for those who do not wish to be shared with other group members. Due to the limited capacity of the hotels, a single room must always be requested. Hotel extensions, adding an extra day or days at our selected accommodations can be arranged but have to be requested in advance. Because of the limited capacity of the hotels due to the group size, dates, etc., any changes in hotels will be immediately communicated to you.

Weather in Andalusia – Spring & Autumn

Weather is important to consider while packing for your cycling vacation. Your packing list is based on your comfort and sensitivity. The best way to travel and to be outdoors is to layer your clothes. Highly recommended as the best way to stay warm and keep cool, as the weather is bound to change on a multi-day bike tour.

The provinces of Málaga and Córdoba, like much of Andalusia, have a Mediterranean climate — warm, sunny, and dry for much of the year, with some seasonal variation that's good to plan for.

Spring (March to May)

- ◆ Daytime temperatures: 18–25°C (can reach 28°C by late May)
- ◆ Nights: Cooler, around 8–15°C
- ◆ Conditions: Generally dry and sunny, with the countryside lush and green after winter rains. Ideal for cycling.
- ◆ Tip: Mornings can be brisk, especially in higher areas like Ronda, so bring layers.

Autumn (September to November)

- ♦ Early autumn is warm and dry, similar to summer but more comfortable: 22–30°C in September.
- ♦ Later autumn (late October–November) sees cooler days (15–22°C) and chilly nights (as low as 5–10°C).
- ♦ The chance of rain increases in November, though still not frequent.
- ♦ Tip: Autumn colours begin to appear in the Sierra Subbética and other natural parks—great scenery for riding.

Good to Know

- ♦ The sun can still be strong in spring and autumn, so sun protection is essential.
- ♦ Hydration is key, even when temperatures aren't extreme—expect dry air and plenty of uphill work!
- ♦ Weather in Córdoba can be hotter than Ronda or higher elevations—expect a warmer finish to your tour.

What to Pack for Your Cycling Holiday

A well-packed bag makes a smoother ride! Here's what we recommend for your cycle tour through Andalusia:

Check list

- ♦ Cycling (padded) shorts & jerseys. 2–3 sets. Long and short sleeves.
- ♦ Lightweight windproof/waterproof jacket. Rain jacket.
- ♦ A sweater or fleece (extra layers for cooler climate)
- ♦ Padded gloves (spring & autumn mornings can be chilly)
- ♦ Arm & leg warmers (optional but helpful)
- ♦ Sports socks (quick dry)
- ♦ Sunhat
- ♦ Neck warmer (buff)
- ♦ Sunglasses and cycling cap or buff (for sun protection)
- ♦ Sun protection
- ♦ Water bottle (provided by us)
- ♦ Bike helmet (provided by us)
- ♦ Geal seat cover for added comfort
- ♦ Small rucksack and Pannier (provided by us)
- ♦ Comfortable shoes ;Not recommended to cycle with sandals
- ♦ Casual clothes and extra pair of shoes for evening
- ♦ Swimsuit
- ♦ Passport and Travel Insurance
- ♦ Personal first aid kit and insect repellent

Any questions about the recommendations of the material do not hesitate to contact us.

Food & Drinks in Andalusia

One of the highlights of cycling through Andalusia is the chance to experience its rich and diverse food culture. Influenced by Moorish, Mediterranean, and Spanish traditions, Andalusian cuisine is fresh, regional, and surprisingly affordable.

What to Expect

Tapas: Small dishes served in bars — perfect for sharing and trying local flavours. In many towns, tapas are still offered free with a drink.

Typical dishes:

- ♦ Salmorejo (a thick tomato and bread cold soup, often topped with ham and egg — Córdoba specialty)
- ♦ Gazpacho (refreshing cold tomato-based soup)
- ♦ Rabo de toro (slow-cooked oxtail stew)
- ♦ Grilled meats, especially Iberian pork in the Sierra areas
- ♦ Pescaito frito (mixed fried fish — more common in Málaga province)
- ♦ Tortilla Española (Spanish omelette)
- ♦ Olives, cheeses, jamón ibérico, and seasonal vegetables

Vegetarian & Vegan Options

Vegetarian options are increasingly available, especially in larger towns and tourist-friendly restaurants. However, in smaller villages, the menu may be more meat- and fish-based, so it's helpful to know a few food words in Spanish or ask ahead.

Drinks

- ♦ Local wines, especially Montilla-Moriles (a region near Córdoba)
- ♦ Beer (served cold and in small glasses — “una caña”)
- ♦ Tinto de verano (red wine with lemon soda — a light alternative to sangria)
- ♦ Coffee culture is strong — try a café con leche in the morning or café solo after lunch.

Average Costs

Andalusia remains one of the more affordable regions in Spain. Prices can vary a bit between tourist areas and more rural spots.

Item	Average Price (€)
Coffee (café solo/leche)	€1.30 – €2.00
Beer (small draught/caña)	€1.50 – €2.50
Glass of wine	€2.00 – €3.50
Tapas (per dish)	€2.00 – €4.00
Menú del Día (3-course lunch menu)	€10 – €15
Evening meal (à la carte)	€15 – €25
